

PRESS RELEASE

Hitchin, 30th May 2013

TRESCAL is Approved Third Party Service Centre for Audio Precision in Ireland and the UK.

30th May, Hitchin

Audio Precision customers in the UK and Ireland may now obtain instrument service from Trescal in the UK.

Trescal today announced that they are an Approved Third Party Service Centre for Audio Precision in Ireland and the UK. Customers in the region may now have Audio Precision products serviced and adjusted by Trescal at their Hitchin, Hertfordshire location. This reduces expenses and ensures a rapid turnaround for users of AP products.

Trescal engineers at Hitchin have been trained at the Audio Precision Factory in Portland Oregon, and use an identical calibration system to ensure the very best measurement uncertainties, factory approved, in the UK.

Comment from Bruce Hofer Chairman & co-founder of Audio Precision "It is very clear that Trescal understands metrology, and that they take their certification very seriously. I have no doubt that our UK customers will receive excellent and quick service."

"We are very pleased that Trescal will be servicing AP instruments in the UK," says Tom Williams, VP of Sales and Marketing for Audio Precision. "We have had a number of customers enquire for a local service provider in the UK. Now Trescal is filling that need"

"With this designation as an Approved Third-Party Service Centre in the UK, Trescal will ensure a high quality, fast turnaround service for Audio Precision customers," says James Sherlock, UK Sales Manager at Trescal. "Our technical skills on Audio Precision products are fully up-to-date, thereby reinforcing our position as the calibration and maintenance specialist for electrical instruments in the UK."
